

Jeanette M. Black, M.D.

Jeanette M. Black, M.D. is a board-certified dermatologist and a fellowship-trained cosmetic dermatologic surgeon. After graduating from Pepperdine University with a Bachelor of Science degree, she received her Doctor of Medicine degree from Tulane University School of Medicine. She also completed an internal medicine internship and a dermatology residency program at Tulane University School of Medicine.

Dr. Black graduated from a prestigious American Society of Dermatologic Surgery accredited cosmetic dermatologic surgery fellowship program where she trained under internationally recognized leaders in cosmetic dermatology. She has expertise in laser and light-based procedures, injectable botulinum toxins, injectable fillers, microneedling, platelet rich plasma (PRP), sclerotherapy, body contouring, skin lifting and tightening procedures, and scar revision.

Dr. Black has co-authored numerous peer-reviewed medical journal articles and textbook publications and has been involved in research studies at the forefront of cosmetic dermatology. Dr. Black is a diplomate of the American Board of Dermatology, a fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology, and a member of the American Society for Dermatologic Surgery and the American Society for Laser Medicine and Surgery.