

Dr. Mraz Robinson received her BAS and MD from University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry and then went on to complete her dermatology residency at Yale-New Haven Hospital, where she served as Chief Resident and Director for the Yale Resident Cosmetic Clinic. Following her time at Yale-New Haven, she completed a fellowship in cosmetic and laser surgery.

Along with her distinguished experience in dermatology, Dr. Mraz Robinson remains active in academia and clinical research. She was an investigator in several research trials. She continues to serve as Assistant Clinical Professor of Dermatology at Yale University of Medicine in New Haven as well as on the advisory board of leading aesthetic brands.

In addition to serving as an editor for multiple medical journals including the monthly broadcast, “Dialogues in Dermatology” of the Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology, Dr. Mraz Robinson is an invited lecturer at national and international conferences (5CC, ICAMS, AAD, ASDS, ASLMS). She is also a popular resource to writers at publications including Allure, Glamour, Esquire, New Beauty and as a “Beauty Guru” for the blog, Beauty in the Bag.