Medical knowledge has become much vaster and more complex, reflecting changes in our patients, our health system and medical science

- The complexity of medicine now exceeds the capacity of the human mind.
- It is ironic that, just when doctors feel they don't have time in the day-to-day routine to think, the need for deep knowledge is more urgent than ever.
- It is for this reason that this Course will provide you with the updated scientific information in order to apply the validated treatments in your patients.
