

Dr Medhat Abdel Malek received his specialty degree from the University of London, Saint John's hospital institute of dermatology, UK.

He is an international recognized aesthetic and consultant dermatologist, specialized in improving skin health through development of corrective procedures. Dr Medhat is the founder of laser associate group in Jordan , Reviewer at 'Dermatologic Therapy', Allergan Local Country and Middle-East Mentor, Annual Professor of dermatology at Marconi University, Italy and author of few book chapter. His last published book chapter is on 'Dermatosis in pigmented skin induced by cosmetics'.

Moreover, he is a Member of several American and European dermatological societies and academies. Additionally, Dr Medhat is a reputable late lecturer at the department of dermatology, university of Jordan and a late board examiner at the Jordan Medical Council, late vice President of the Pan Arab League of Dermatology and Venereology in Jordan and the Late Chairman of the Jordanian Society of Dermatology and Venereology.