

Dr. Didac Barco is a Dermatologist from Barcelona (Spain). He holds a Master Degree in Aesthetical Dermatology by the University of Alcalá de Henares and in Lasers and Photomedicine by the Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya. His passion for lasers therapy and for the treatment of scars has led him to make observership stages in the United Kingdom (Aberdeen's Royal Infirmary Hospital) and the United States of America (Chicago's Northwestern University Hospital and New York's Mount Sinai Hospital). Dr. Barco is a guest lecturer about laser therapies at the University of Alcalá de Henares in Madrid and at the University Cardenal Herrera in Valencia, both for Master Degrees for dermatologists.

He is also the main teacher for the Fundamentals in Laser Course in Barcelona (Spain) and the education and observership stages coordinator in the Dermatology Department in Centro Médico Tekon (Barcelona). He is also author of national and international publications and book chapters regarding laser therapies for scars in Spain.
