

Vanesa Piquero M.D.

Graduated from the Central University of Venezuela with a post grade in General Dermatology and Cosmetic Dermatology in the Das Clinicas Hospital of the Sao Paulo University, Brazil. She was Professor of Cosmetic Medicine in the Pharmacy Faculty at the Central University of Venezuela. Founder and Medical Assistant Collaborator at the Vargas Hospital in Cosmetic Dermatology, in Caracas. She also practiced private medicine in Caracas for more than 15 years. And she is currently working at the Dermik clinic in Barcelona, Spain; where she stands out with the handling of lasers and aesthetic dermatology. And apart from this, wrote articles about general dermatology and aesthetics, and the most recent report on dermo cosmetics and chemical peels by Springer Nature editorial.