

Yael Halaas
(USA)

Yael Halaas, MD, FACS, is recognized as one of the best facial plastic surgeons in New York City. Fully bilingual in English and Spanish and conversational in Hebrew, Dr. Halaas has a special interest in the treatment of the aging face in both women and men. Her advanced education and continued training make her an expert in the complex areas of primary and reparative rhinoplasty, and the medical and surgical treatment of hair loss.

Dr. Halaas is double board-certified in the most selective field by the American Board of Otolaryngology and the American Board of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. Her dedication to continued education, training, and top of the line patient care has earned her the highest recognition offered to surgeons practicing in the United States- Fellow of the American College of Surgeons (FACS).

Dr. Halaas has a particular interest in the evaluation and treatment of hair loss in women and men, and the near- incisionless follicular unit extraction (FUE) procedure, which essentially avoids donor site scarring. Often featured in the media, she is frequently quoted for her various areas of expertise; Dr. Halaas regularly performs all areas of facial plastic surgery in her nationally accredited facility, for which she herself became an OR inspector nationally, and brings a particular level of compassion and caring to the office. Her specialized technique for Asian eyelid surgery has been recognized by Digital Journal and her innovative chemical peel process designed to remove wrinkles is published by medical journals. Last but not least, Dr. Halaas has a passion for the dynamic segment of non-invasive body contouring and she actively participates in research of new disruptive technologies.
